VOICE OF THE BRIGHAM YOUNG UNIVERSITY COMMUNITY

Vol. 9, No. 39 Thursday, Nov. 15, 1956 Provo, Utah

Love Court' convenes today at 11

by Verland Whipple

IS IT A CRIME to fall in love?

This issue will be decided in special court session Thursday at 11 a.m. in the Smith Fieldhouse.

Presiding over the court will be Judge Dean McMahon, counsel for the defense will be Win Christensen and prosecuting attorney, Alyric Ray.

Witnesses to be called in to testify for or against love will be The Gaynote Trio, Skip Nelson, Joan Schoenfeld, Dick Robison, Ina Lou Elison, Arthur Miller and Verland Whipple.

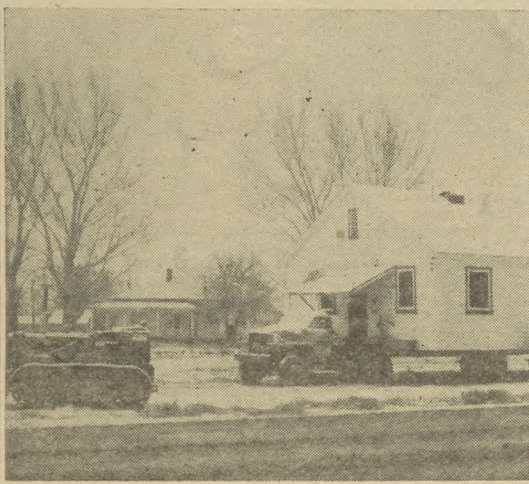

PEOPLE HAVE been falling in love at Brigham Young University since the day it was founded. Nobody, according to records, has ever challenged the legality of such action.

Now that Preference week has arrived and many cases of love are being brought to the attention of the school, which otherwise would remain hidden and restrained within the hearts of the feminine population, it is of the utmost importance to see if it's legal for the girls to pursue the boys in such a vigorous fashion.

Because the Preference Committee feels that the outcome of the court will have such direct influence on the lives of students in the immediate future they have invited all interested persons to sit in on a special session of court.

CHAIRMAN of the event is Ray Moody, publicity is under the direction of Nan Mattice, photography, Toni Madsen, music, Jo Ann Barker; cosponsors, Marilyn Hansen, scenes, Brent Gubler and Marilyn Hansen, programs, Peggy Jowhansen, Suzanne David is the secretary.

The assembly is written and directed by Verland Whipple

THIS OLD HOUSE—Permanent moving day has arrived for several houses northwest of campus. They are being moved from the site of future men's residence halls. (Photo by John Meek)

Unbelievable...

Ground Clearance Started For Men's New Dormitory

Winter weather and snow have hampered but not halted clearing of the site of the new men's residence halls.

According to Joyce Tippets, director of campus planning and development, clearing of the dorm site has been going on for about two weeks.

Several old houses have already been moved out of the dorm area to make room for the new buildings.

Tippets said the snow slows work at times and is a handicap. However, he said, the workers expect winter weather and work around it the best way possible. Plans for the new buildings are now being completed. No date has yet been set for an official ground-breaking ceremony.

New buildings will include five residence halls and one central building which will house a cafeteria and other facilities for men.

Tippets said that besides clearing out the houses workers have been transporting topsoil from the dorm site to the grounds of the new Joseph F. Smith Family Living Center.

The dormitory site is located in the northwest corner of the campus, over the hill to the north of the baseball diamond.

Top 13 Men Announced By Coed Choice Group

by Vickie Soha
Daily Universe Writer

THE 13 MEN most preferred by Brigham Young University coeds have been determined, according to Luana Schow, chairman of Preference Ball Week.

The gentlemen most preferred on campus are Monroe McKay, Murray McInnes, Bob Bateman, Barrie McKay, Sloan Hales, Sam Atoa, Jack Nelson, Bill Mathis, John Marlow, John Benson, Hans Kelling, Larry Jenkins, and Darrel Walker.

JACK NELSON from Bellflower, Calif., is doing graduate work in English. He has a Bachelor's degree in journalism. He has been a preferred man several times.

An economics major, Barrie McKay plans to study law. He is a junior from Huntsville. He served on a mission in Australia and is now first counselor in the sixth ward bishopric.

Kelling, a sophomore is an industrial management major. He is from Bremen, Germany. This is his second time as a preferred man.

STUDENTBODY president, Monroe McKay is a political science major and plans to go into law. He has a wife, Lucy, and a daughter, Michele. He served on a South African mission.

Animal reproduction and physiology is the major of another preferred man, senior, Murray McInnes. From Eager, Ariz., he is National Student Coordinator for BYU. He served on a mission in Great Britain and is now second counselor in the fourth ward bishopric.

BOB BATEMAN thought that the wrong man was contacted when he was told he was one of the preferred men. A senior from Burley, Ida., he is an accounting major and plans to go into law.

He served in the Eastern States Mission and presently is first counselor in the fifth ward bishopric.

SLOAN HALES, only freshman preferred man, is president of his class. He is a pre-med student from Glendale, Calif.

ACTIVE in the Kiora and Afio Mai is preferred man, Sam Atoa. He is a senior, majoring in political science, from Upolu, Samoa.

Being one of the preferred men caught Bob Mathis, Y's Men saxophone player, "completely by surprise." He is president of the university dance organization. A senior, music major, Mathis plans to do graduate work at BYU next year.

PRE-MED student, John Marlow is editor of the Banyan for the second year. He is Rocky Mountain Inter-collegiate Press Assn. vice president in charge of year books. From Blackfoot, Ida. Marlow is active in opera workshop and is music director for the sixth ward.

John Benson, outstanding forward on the Cougar basketball team, is a senior from Parowan. His major is physical education.

SOPHOMORE class president, Larry Jenkins is a geology major from Pendleton, Ore. He is active in the Alpine and German clubs, and the Provo Tubing Society.

Darrel Walker, student body second vice president, is a marketing major from Salem, Ore. He served in the West Central States mission.

These men will escort the Preference Ball Committee to the dance Friday night.

The most preferred man and the two runners up will be announced during the dance intermission.

Patience Is A Virtue . . .

Telephone Operators Send SOS

by Karen Larsen
Daily Universe Writer

AFTER WAITING a half hour for a telephone line many students are angry and perplexed that a university as large as Brigham Young University would have such an inadequate "bell system."

This situation came to the attention of the Student Senate through a resolution brought up by Luanna Wortham, Junior Class Senator.

THE RESOLUTION proposes that the Senate urge the students to limit the length of their phone calls in consideration of their fellow students because of the inadequacy of the campus switchboard.

Under the night and the day supervisors there are four switch-board operators with 15 cords each.

Sixty campus calls may be made at one time, which are inadequate for the 700 extension phones on campus plus outside calls to the campus.

ACCORDING to Jane Borgeson, night supervisor, the busiest hours at the switchboard are from 5 to 8:30 p. m. and from 10 to 11:30 p. m.

She said "We do not have adequate equipment to pick up the calls on the board and especially at the busy hours. It's too bad each student couldn't come in and see just what is happening when they are trying to get an operator."

SOMEONE is operating the board from 6:30 a. m. to 12 p. m. Sunday through Thursday, and from 6:30 a. m. to 1 a. m. on Friday and Saturday.

According to Miss Wortham the average phone calls are from half an hour to 45 minutes. Many times long distance calls come in to campus, and it is against the operating policy to interrupt conversations.

According to the Senate investigation, long distance calls are still being made over the campus system by students when no such calls are to be made. Students wanting to make long distance calls should use nearby pay phones.

THIS SITUATION should be changed in the near future when the new facilities now being installed are put in use. The telephone company assured the campus that the lines now used for both incoming and outgoing calls will be used in the future for outgoing calls only, according to Robert Hellewell, BYU Telephone Services.

A number of new lines are now being installed and they will carry incoming calls.

Installation of the new switchboard in the Joseph F. Smith Family Living Center is now in progress. Western Electric is almost completed with the job which was contracted almost a year ago.

State AWS Convention At BYU Draws 68 Utah College Coeds

Sixty-eight Utah coeds attended the Intercollegiate Association of Women Students State Convention at Brigham Young University last weekend.

Purpose of this convention was to enable each school to become acquainted with other schools and their AWS programs, Miss Berrett said.

"Future at our Fingertips" was the theme of the convention. It reflects the progress and the importance of working toward the future in Associated Women Students activities, according to Bonnie Berrett, BYU AWS president.

Topics discussed and commented on by the delegates were: Coed of the Month, AWS-AMS Joint Functions, Women's Week, Preference Ball and the Big Sister program.

Colleges sending delegates were University of Utah, Weber College, Westminster College, Utah State Agricultural College, and the College of Southern Utah.

Iranians Near End Of Utah Visit, T After Physical Education Observat

Two Iranian physical educators are studying and observing physical education at Brigham Young University.

Mahmud Zokaie and Skokrollah Varzandeh of Iran arrived in Utah Oct. 6 and have studied at the University of Utah, Utah State Agricultural College, BYU and public schools in Logan, Salt Lake City and Utah County.

Both visitors work for the Ministry of Education of Zokaie is the general education of the ministry. He service training with elementary teachers and supervisory, rural and community education in Iran.

They are in the United States to observe physical education, elementary and secondary schools and major universities. Their major emphasis is health programs, recreational activities. They are attempting to acquaint themselves with the American philosophy of physical education and recreation, they said.

The Iranians have spent of their time at BYU classes. They will leave weekend for the University of California at Los Angeles.

BYU Drive Begins To Collect Funds For Region Scouts

Drive to collect funds for the local Boy Scout Council begins at Brigham Young University Wednesday.

A meeting in 261 McKay Building at 4:15 p.m. will kick off the fund drive. Faculty and full-time non-academic workers on campus will be contacted by a representative.

They are requested to contribute enough to sponsor one boy for one year of scouting, according to Charles J. Hart, professor of recreation and of physical and health education.

For the 12,500 Boy Scouts in the area a total of $66,500 is needed for operating expenses for the council. The area taken in by the local council extends from Lehi to the southern, eastern, and western borders of Utah.

IOC Needs Executive To Man Social Program

Students with executive experience in their background are needed to implement a social program in Inter-Organization Council.

Those interested, who have experience in church auxiliaries or extra-curricular activities, are invited to attend a meeting in room 123 Building at 4:30 p.m. Thursday according to Rodney Fye, executive assistant to IOC.

Fye will explain the plan and make assignments.

Where is Little America?

In the Antarctic . . . near the South Pole? Yes, but there's another Little America filled with just as much adventure. And it's as near as your nearest school.

In it you'll find a society faithful to the American dream. Children learn to evaluate each other on the basis of contributions and personality . . . rather than sex, religion, race, or social status. Subjects like science, social studies, art, literature bring a healthy respect for the common national life and for the various groups and cultures which have developed it.

No other institution has contributed so much to national unity as the school. No other institution has so successfully blended individual differences with common values.

Little America is worth exploring. Why not visit it this week?

Seven Steps Listed For Easy Ironing Of All Men's Shirts

Men, if your mother did not teach you to iron a shirt in four minutes, try these seven easy steps.

1. After laundering, starch the collar, cuffs and front. This will make for a professional looking finish job.
2. After the shirt is dry, dampen and let stand for at least two hours. (They mildew if left longer than two days.)
3. Iron the under side of the front facings and wrong side of collars and cuffs.
4. Turn the facing, collars and cuffs to right side and press.
5. Next, lay sleeves flat and press carefully.
6. Place yoke over small end of board and press each shoulder.
7. Iron left shirt front, back and then right front.

Remember to press until fabric is thoroughly dry, being careful iron is not too hot. If you should scorch the fabric, lemon juice and sunshine will remove the spot.

Easy, huh??

Kittens Await Visitors From North As Papooses Go Out On Warpath

by Mark Murphy

BOASTING size, talent and reams of publicity, Brigham Young University's burly Kittens and Utah's equally sizeable young Injuns clash Thursday in a battle of giants that may sound a warning for future Cougar gridiron opponents.

Barring a heavy snow, interest is running so high for the long awaited clash that approximately 5,000 fans are expected for the championship clash.

FOR COACH Max Tolbert's undefeated Kittens it will be their first test of the season after three easy wins over badly out-classed opponents. For the Papooses it will be a chance to prove themselves after a sluggish contest with Utah State last week.

The highly touted Cougar Cubs will be out to break a long Utah jinx over BYU football teams, and to keep in tact a winning tradition for next year.

THE CAT coaching staff is also well aware of the importance of this contest. They feel the transfusion of new blood with a winning past will go far in boosting BYU football out of the dark dungeon of the Skyline basement.

In both cases, the first year

For a future that's bright
Do it up right.
See Nixon today.
Without a delay.

FR 3-5500 Ext. 600

gridders are acclaimed by their supporters as the best in recent history. The Kittens and Papooses are also probably the biggest freshman teams ever assembled in Utah, both of them outweighing their varsity brothers.

COACH ANDY Everest, Ute frosh mentor, has assembled a squad boasting many ex-high school standouts from Utah and several other states. Number one man on the Papoose squad is the much heralded Ken Vierra, a husky quarterback called the best signal caller at Utah since the famed Tom Dublinski.

Also the Ute yearlings boast a vast array of hard-hitting, heavyweights on the line, including Bill Chung, Mark Carey, Jerry Cutshaw, and other huskies capable of matching such giant Kittens as Lonnie Dennis, John Kapele and Ed Flint who hit the scales as 220 lbs.

THE UTAH frosh have not been defeated in three years, and the Cougar frosh have never been of sufficient caliber to worry the perennially strong Utes. However, this year the Cubs are big, ambitious and especially anxious to dump the Redskin frosh.

BYU's flashy array of break-away runners are the chief worry for the 'Skin defenses. Wayne Chamberlain, Joe McGinn and Keith Hubbs have reeled many long runs so far this season and Utah's flankmen will have difficulty in holding the Cub speedsters.

UTAH ALSO has its backfield aces. Lee Johnston and Larry Wilson were outstanding in the Aggie game, and should give the rugged Kitten line its first test of the year.

The battle shapes up as a bruising defensive contest between two massive lines attempting to contain two equally adept offensive machines.

ACCORDING to Coach Everest of Utah, the dangerous Vierra "stands in that backfield as if he owned it," and has the makings of one of the best Redskin quarterbacks in five years. He can throw the ball more than 60 yards on the fly and hit his receivers. Also the Californian is big enough at 6-1 and 190 lbs to run with effect.

However, Vierra will be only one of many stars on the Cougar stadium turf as the two squads square off at 2 p.m.

EXPERIENCE may be a telling factor in the important clash.

The Utes have had only two widely spaced games this season compared to the Cougars' three consecutive tussles. The Papooses whipped Carbon College 44-0 early in the year then waited over a month for their 7-7 draw with the Utah State Ramblers.

The favored Kittens stomped the same Ramblers 31-7 in their debut and went on to trample Dixie 59-6 and Snow 59-0. Based on comparative scores with the Aggies, BYU should stack up as a heavy favorite.

FROM THE

SPORTS DESK

by Jerry Cunningham

THE OLYMPIC games were established upon this principle: "The important thing in the Olympics is not to win but to take part. The essential thing in life is not to conquer but to fight courageously."

OUR FRESHMEN melted Snow last week, 59-0, after lac Utah State and Dixie. (Almost inspires us to compose a letter "Dear Mr. Ripley, a BYU football team has won three games in a row—all land-slides!")

To date the Kittens have fulfilled every stipulation of the Olympic motto; they've "taken part," they've "won," they've "conquered" and above all, the squad has "fought courageously."

THEIR GREATEST task remains yet unfulfilled, and on time will allow them to realize it. Especially since they've begun a winning precedent, they are more and more going to be in the public eye.

Brigham Young University boasts high ideals. Sports figures being in the limelight, are standard bearers for ideals, whether they want to be or not. It's a real challenge for any BYU team to conduct itself above reproach of the critical eyes who are always watching.

THE KITTENS have the potential of real champions. In subsequent years, their conduct—win or lose—will be a criterion of conduct for the entire studentbody.

In their three previous conquests the Cougar Cubs have compiled an impressive set of statistics. They have averaged upward of 500 yards a game while holding the opposition to an average of about 50, mostly by passing.

OUR GREENLINGS have racked up over 50 first downs; the opposition has made six—three by penalties. Cougar yearlings have scored 143 points, the opponents 13.

Some critics have condemned BYU scheduling for not getting better competition. This is a little ridiculous. Prior to this year the Y's frosh have been hard pressed to beat junior college much less stiffer foes.

STIFFER FOES brings us to Utah's Papooses, who come to the Kitten lair Thursday afternoon.

The other day we heard a big, misinformed "bird" chirping something about a superior Papoose inner line which would take holes in the Kitten forward wall.

Fact is, the Kitten tackles, guards and centers have been the biggest factor in their success. Opposing teams have discovered the likes of Dennis, Reeve, Kapele, Freestone, Kinder, Goldman, Flint and Brown anything but vulnerable.

The "experts" tell us that Utah's frosh are real good—big, strong, and fast—one of Utah's best, which makes for a good game. Frankly though, we wouldn't give a plug nickel for the chances against the Kittens.

Sports Scribe Says . . .

Students, Band, Bell Needed At Freshman Tilt Thursday

by Rich Hall

THURSDAY the "big game" for the freshman football squad will be played.

The Kittens will tangle with the University of Utah frosh in what many fans feel will indicate the future status of the two teams as far as future varsity competition goes.

It will be a game worthy of all the support the studentbody can provide. That means a band, the Y Bell, and a good turnout, snow or no snow.

A BAND is almost a necessity. If the varsity band is indisposed perhaps the ROTC band would welcome the chance to perform. At any rate the game is worthy of having a pep band on hand.

The Y Bell is another must. The Kittens are going into this game undefeated. If they win this one, and most people feel they will, they will have turned in one of the best records of a frosh squad has ever presented to the studentbody.

THE RINGING of the Y Bell would be a fitting touch in the opinion of many and would serve to let the Kittens know that the students and faculty are proud of their record and eager to see them perform in the varsity.

All of these added touch and preparations will mean little, however, if there is not a good sized crowd out to support the frosh.

This should be the "Game of the Year" for BYU students. Perhaps classes should have been excused for this game, but we feel that the majority of professors just might look the other way if students want to attend the game.
